Kia ora Fraser whānau!

You may have seen a few government announcements lately about some new mathematics funding, the creation of a financial literacy programme and an online parent portal.

While I am keen to see funds being invested in education, I feel strongly that it needs to align with the needs of our Tamariki, especially those at Fraser Crescent School. I would love to have seen more funding for learning support, enabling us to provide greater assistance to students who are struggling. The gap between our funding and the needs of some of our students seems to be widening.

One factor we often see, is the link between attendance and achievement. If you are having any issues with getting your child to school each day, please let me know. Feel free to email me via principal@frasercrest.school.nz

Ngā mihi,
John Channer.

PINK SHIRT DAY

Today we showed our support for Pink Shirt Day by turning up to school in Pink. Every year we celebrate this day to encourage inclusion, empathy and kindness. This event is well aligned with our school values and is just one of the many things we do to promote kindness and discourage exclusion at our school. Our staff are committed to making sure FCS is a place where all of our students feel they can talk to someone when they're having a rough time.
